FOR LONDON.—By the Cheapside, on Saturday evening, at 6.

FOR CALCUTTA.—By the Rory O'More, this day, at noon.

CUSTOM HOUSE.—Entered Outwards: February 2. Kate, brig, 262 tons, Reuss, for Launceston via Newcastle.

The Waratah, steamer, hence, was sighted off the Pigeon House on Sunday last.

The Berenice sailed from Shanghai, for Sydney, on 5th November, and the Anna, for Port Phillip, sailed the latter end of October.

The Whampoa reports having been in company with the William Bentinck, from Shanghai, bound for Sydney, in the Straits of Sunda.

The Emma has made a quick passage from Hobart Town, which place she left on 27th ultimo. She has only been 24 days away from Sydney.

GREAT SPEED OF THE LA PLATA CLYDE STEAMER.—It has been a desideratum with the West India Mail Company to have steamers that will run between Southampton and St. Thomas at the same ratio of speed as Cunard's ships run between Liverpool and New York. To do this, the St. Thomas passage should be done in twelve days, for the distance is nearly 3700 miles. The Orinoco, Magdalena, and Parana, have been built for this purpose; but although these ships are magnificent specimens of naval architecture, and afford most luxurious accommodation to passengers, they failed to come up to the required speed, and their consumption of coal —nearly 100 tons a day—was enormous. At length the above named company started the La Plata (built for the Cunard Company), a monster ship, differently constructed from the others, and bestowed on her everything which science and wealth could command. The company staked everything on this ship, and there is not now the slightest doubt but that a steamer is afloat that will run four thousand miles in a fortnight without stopping, and that that steamer is the La Plata. At 3.30 p.m., on 17th of August last, the La Plata cast off from the buoy opposite Netley Abbey, in Southampton Water, with nearly 1400 tons of coal on board, besides cargo, passengers, and mails. She had an ebb tide, and in twenty minutes afterwards she was abreast of Calshot Castle. At 5.30 p.m. she passed the Needles rocks. As the night set in, a fog came on, which detained her two hours. The first clear day's run after leaving Southampton, she accomplished 245 miles, and continued to increase her speed as she consumed her coals. On the 22nd, at sunset, the La Plata passed the Azores, and at noon on the 24th, half the voyage was accomplished. Her speed was now increased to 300 miles a day, which speed was kept up with very little variation to the end of the voyage. The La Plata entered St. Thomas at 6.45 p.m., on the 30th ult., and considering the difference of time at Southampton and St. Thomas, and the accidental delay of the voyage, the whole distance traversed was a little more than twelve days. Captain Allan, commander of the La Plata, fully expects to reach Southampton on the evening of the 28th, or the morning of the 29th of this month, with the West India and Mexican mails, and to perform the distance from St. Thomas to Southampton in less than 12 days. The La Plata, we may add, is a Clyde-built ship, and adds another to the many laurels already gained by Mr. Robert Napier, the eminent engineer.—Glasgow Saturday Post.

In the list of imports, per Vriendshaap, from London, 400 bundles hoop iron, consigned to J. B. Rundle, were omitted.

The Jacatra reports the Sultana as about to sail for Port Phillip about the 20th December.

The cargo of the Gipsy, from Twofold Bay, consists of 69 bales wool, and 17 bags bacon. The infant daughter of Mrs. Hogan, a passenger, died on the passage.

The Derwentwater, from England, arrived at Hobart Town on 22nd altimo.

The Vimiera sailed for London early yesterday morning, and would have gone the day previous but for the indisposition of one of the lady passengers, on whose account the captain detained the ship for twenty-four hours.

The Picard and Charles Carter were anchored at the Heads yesterday evening at sunset.

The Envelope, hence, arrived at Newcastle on 31st ultimo.

The Canterbury left Sydney, bound for Ceylon, on the 24th ultimo, and had got as far as the entrance to Bass' Straits, when, in consequence of the insubordination of the crew, Captain Gilbert deemed it prudent to return to port.

THE EVIDENCE ON IMMIGRATION.

So much of the Minutes of Evidence taken before the Select Committee on Immigration as relates to immigration from Germany, we have already noticed; and we have attentively read the other portions with the view of placing before our readers the substance of what might seem valuable in the opinions, suggestions, or information elicited from the witnesses, on the subject of immigration from the United Kingdom. Here, however, a difficulty arises from the time which has elapsed since the evidence was taken, and the great changes which have occurred during the interval. The first witness was examined on the 16th June, the last on the 13th July; while the Report is dated 28th December, and comes before the public some weeks subsequently to that.

In ordinary times, on an inquiry like this, an interval of half a year would throw little or no new light upon the points of investigation. The labour market, both in its actual condition and in its immediate prospects, would remain much the same at the end of the period as it was at the beginning. But these are extraordinary times, when the lapse of a few months, or even of a few weeks, may alter the whole aspect of affairs. Between the middle of the year 1852 and the commencement of 1853 the aspect of Australian affairs has undergone a greater change than they ever experienced before — a greater change than, two years ago, could have been pictured by the wildest imagination. When the Committee began their labours, there was no evidence in the colony that the discovery of our gold fields had produced the slightest effect upon the inhabitants of the mother country. On the contrary, our London Correspondents concurred with the London newspapers in representing that the tidings had created no emotion, had arrested no attention, in any part of the United Kingdom. One of the Committee's witnesses, Mr. J. L. MONTEFIORE, states that he left England about six weeks after the arrival of the Thomas Arbuthnot with the news of the discovery, and that up to that time "it had not created the slightest effect." Before the Committee had closed their labours, even before they had agreed upon their second Progress Report, this unexpected apathy was known to have given way to intense excitement throughout the lengths and breadths of the British Isles, and amongst all ranks and conditions of the people. When the Committee held their first sitting, there seemed no chance of copious immigration without taxing the Land Fund to the extremest point it would bear. Long before their last sitting, they found that immigration to these colonies was setting in of its own accord at the rate of a thousand souls per day, and felt justified in recommending a system which would ultimately relieve the Land Fund altogether, or press upon its resources only in the slightest degree.

This change in the circumstances of the times must be borne in mind while looking over the Minutes of Evidence, for otherwise the opinions of some of the most intelligent of the witnesses would seem to be in direct opposition to notorious facts. Such of them as were examined touching the inclination of persons to emigrate from the United Kingdom to the Australian Colonies expressed their belief that no indication of the kind prevailed to any extent, and that if we would attract immigration to our shores we must apply the stimulus of liberal pecuniary assistance.

The witness most competent to speak as to the extent of immigration which our own colony could profitably absorb is the Immigration Agent, Mr. H. H. BROWNE. His opinion, on the 1st of July last, in reply to the question, "How many people might be absorbed by the different avocations of the country," was, that "we could get through one thousand or fifteen hundred a week, and could dispose of four hundred or five hundred female servants at once." Being asked whether fifty thousand males and females would be too many for the labour market, he replies, "I think all would find employment, and profitable employment too; I think we hardly know the extent of the necessity which at present exists." He adds, in reply to other questions, that "if fifty thousand were to arrive this year, they would increase the demand next year, and we could take probably sixty thousand."

Here is the deliberately recorded opinion of the gentleman whose official duty it is to study the requirements of our labour market, and who has of course the very best opportunities of ascertaining what those requirements are, that our market would not be overstocked by the immigration of more than a hundred thousand souls in two years.

The only other point in the evidence before us to which we think it necessary to refer at present is the one relating to the disposition of employers to co-operate with the Government in recovering the amounts advanced for immigrants out of the public funds. Some of the witnesses think that the co-operation would be given generally and cheerfully; others are disposed to think it would not. Mr. WM. MACARTHUR thinks that, supposing the year's wages would not exceed £18, many employers would willingly pay £9 cash down to receive the services of an efficient agricultural labourer for a year, paying the remaining £9 to the labourer himself, and supplying him with a sufficient ration. Mr. BLACKSTONE thinks that, owing to the uncertainty of employers being able to keep the immigrants to their engagements, partly from the seductions of the gold fields, and partly from the inefficiency of the police, immigrants would not be extensively employed under the proposed terms. Mr. HUGHES thinks that in the northern districts the majority of the squatters would advance £7 or £8 at the time of hiring, with liberty to deduct the advance out of the first year's wages. Mr. MARSH, of New England, would not hire British immigrants on these terms, but would prefer Germans, or Chinese. Mr. DOBIE, on the contrary, prefers English, and would be happy to take from twenty to thirty on the above conditions. Mr. ALEXANDER BUSBY is of opinion that in his district there would be a general disposition among sheepholders and others to fall-in with the Government plan, and would himself be very glad to do so.

Thus the balance of the evidence is clearly and strongly in favour of the practicability of the system. It may not be a perfect system; but nobody has suggested a better. It may be open to occasional abuse, from the unfaithfulness of indented immigrants to their own voluntary engagements; but if, as may be hoped, these will form the exceptions and not the rule, it will go far towards keeping up an adequate supply of labour throughout the colony, without that exhausting drain upon our Land Fund which has been the great bane of all the systems of immigration hitherto tried.

GOLD REGULATIONS.

(From a Supplement to Tuesday's Government Gazette.)

COLONIAL Secretary's Office, Sydney, February 2, 1853.—In pursuance of the provisions of the Act of the Governor and Legislative Council, 16th Victoria, No. 43, His Excellency the Governor-General is pleased to direct that the following

CODE OF REGULATIONS FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF THE GOLD FIELDS, framed with the advice of the Executive Council, and embodying the principal provisions of the said Act, be published for general information:—

1.—ALLUVIAL GOLD.

CROWN LAND LICENSES.

1. No person will be permitted to dig, search for, or remove alluvial gold on or from any land, public or private, unless he shall hold for the time being a valid lease or license for that purpose. All gold procured without due authority, or money, or other property, acquired by the sale of such gold, will be seized as being the property of the Crown, in whose possession soever it may be found, unless the same shall have previously passed for valuable consideration to a bonâ fide purchaser, without notice of the unlawful acquisition thereof. (16 Vict., No. 43, ss. 4—19.)

2. The ordinary licence fee to be paid for permission to extract alluvial gold from crown lands has been fixed at one pound ten shillings per calendar month, or fifteen shillings for the residue of a month if the application be made after the fifteenth day. The license fee must, in every case, be paid in advance. (ss. 5—9.)

3. Licenses can be obtained on the several gold fields from the resident Commissioners, who are authorised to receive the fees payable thereon.

4. The licenses must be produced by the holders thereof whenever demanded by the Commissioner, or by any of his Assistants, otherwise the holders will be liable to be treated as unlicensed persons. But if a person found without a license can prove to the satisfaction of a Justice of the Peace that he is nevertheless duly licensed, he will be liable to one-half the penalty imposed for digging without a license, but not to any forfeiture of goods. (s. 23.)

5. No lease or license will be granted to any person who shall not produce to the Commissioner proof, to his satisfaction, that he has been duly discharged from his last place of service, if any, and that he is not then under any continuing contract of hired service or apprenticeship, and improperly absent from such service. If any person shall obtain such license and it shall afterwards be ascertained that at the time of obtaining the same he was under the disqualification abovementioned, such license will thereupon be deemed void ab initio, and the claim will be forfeited, and the disqualified person will be liable to be proceeded against under the Act, as a person digging for gold without a license. (s. 12.)

6. Persons desirous of establishing claims to new and unoccupied ground by working in the ordinary method for alluvial gold, may have their claims marked out on the following scale, to each person, namely:—

1. Fifteen feet frontage to either side of a river or main creek.
2. Twenty feet of the bed of a tributary to a river or main creek, extending across its whole breadth.
3. Sixty feet of the bed of a ravine or watercourse.
4. Twenty feet square of table land or river flats.

7. These claims will be secured to parties for such time only as they may continue to hold licenses for the same; unless in case of flood or other such unavoidable accident as shall in the opinion of the Resident Commissioner render a suspension of the work inevitable.

8. Except as against her Majesty, the holder of any lease or license will be deemed in the law to be the owner of any land which may be specified in such lease or license, or which the Commissioner shall have specifically allowed to such holder, and during the continuance of such lease or license all gold and gold ore on such land will be deemed to be the chattel property of such holder, and may be made the subject of a prosecution for theft. (s. 14.)

9. Licenses will be cancelled and the claims forfeited in consequence of the conviction of the holder in any court of competent jurisdiction, of any felony or misdemeanor, or of the illicit sale of fermented or spirituous liquors, or of being an idle and disorderly person, or a rogue and vagabond, or incorrigible rogue, or of keeping any gambling or other disorderly house or place. (s. 16.) And for three months thereafter the Commissioner will refuse to grant or renew a license to any person who shall have been so convicted.

10. Persons found working alluvial gold on any land whatsoever, public or private, without having previously paid the license fee to the proper officer, and all persons following any trade or calling on a gold field, proclaimed as such on Crown lands, or residing thereat without license, will be proceeded against as the law direct. This provision will not include women, and children under 14 years of age, who do not mine or dig for gold, nor carry on any trade or business on a gold field, nor persons employed in connexion only with agricultural or pastoral pursuits under proper authority. (ss. 4—17.)

11. If any dispute arise in respect of any claim, reference may be forthwith made by the complainant to the resident commissioner, who will loose no time in hearing and summarily determining the case, either on view, or according to the evidence adduced on either side, giving due notice to the party complained of. If necessary, the Commissioner will take the proper measures for placing and maintaining the successful party in possession of the claim. The Commissioner is also empowered to award reasonable costs to be paid by the unsuccessful to the successful party, and such costs shall be recoverable in the same manner as penalties are made recoverable under the thirty-first section of the said act: and in default of payment the party making such default shall be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding two months, unless the amount be sooner paid. (ss. 13—26.)

12. Persons desirous of transferring their claims to other qualified and licensed parties, will be allowed to do so on certifying their desire in writing to the resident Commissioner, and paying to that officer, on behalf of the public, a fee of ten shillings, and an entry thereof will be made in a book to be kept by him for the purpose. (s. 15.)

RESERVATION OF CLAIMS DURING HARVEST, &C.

13. Any licensed claimant who may be desirous of engaging himself at the proper periods of the year, in the sowing or reaping of grain, or of other agricultural crops, or in the washing or shearing of sheep, may make application in writing to the resident Commissioner to have his claim reserved for him during his necessary absence for any of the purposes aforesaid; and if the Commissioner shall be satisfied that the applicant is bonâ fide about to employ himself in any of the pursuits indicated, his claim shall be reserved for him accordingly, for a period not exceeding three months at any one time, without payment of any fee during the same: and it shall be the duty of the Commissioner to record the reservation of such claim in a book to be opened for that purpose. This regulation will only apply to alluvial claims held by individual members.

PRIVATE LAND LICENSES.

14. With respect to lands alienated by the Crown in fee simple, licenses will not be issued under these regulations to any persons but the proprietors, or persons authorised by them in writing to apply for the same. The license fee for such lands will be one-half only of that payable for Crown Lands. Persons holding licenses for private lands, but found working on Crown lands, without licenses applicable thereto, will be liable to be proceeded against as unlicensed persons; and all gold obtained without due authority, and all money or other property acquired by the sale of such gold will, as in the case of Crown lands be seized as being the property of the Crown. (s. 7.)

15. The owner of private land must not suffer any person to mine or dig for gold thereon, without giving previous notice to the nearest Commissioner of Crown Lands, under a penalty not exceeding £50. (s. 22).

WORKING OF AURIFEROUS TRACTS.

CROWN LANDS.

16. Persons and companies desirous of employing capital or machinery in working alluvial gold, may obtain, on the following conditions, the exclusive right to a quarter of a mile of new ground in the bed of a river or creek—or to a quarter of a mile square of table or other land—or to any portion of the bed of a river not exceeding half a mile, which having once been worked by not less than fifty persons for six months, has been vacated.

17. No persons who are not entitled to the privileges of British subjects are qualified by law to hold leases of such auriferous tracts. (s. 2.)

18. No such tract will be allowed to include the existing claims of licensed diggers except with their consent. But on the receipt of an application of the nature contemplated in this section no new claims will be allowed to be taken up on any land comprised therein, until that application is decided upon.

19. The person or company whose application is accepted for any one of the three classes of claims above mentioned, will be required to pay in advance for fifty licenses per month, at the usual rate of thirty shillings per license.

20. This payment will entitle such person or company to employ fifty men on the claim; but an additional license will have to be taken out monthly for every man so employed above fifty.

21. The name of every man so employed must be registered with the resident Commissioner.

22. If, however, machinery be used in working the claim, so as to render practicable the imposition of a royalty, instead of paying license fees, a royalty of ten per cent. will be charged on the gold obtained. But in order to ensure the bonâ fide working of the claims, and to prevent their being taken up for speculative purposes only, a fixed charge will be made in lieu of the royalty, equal to the fees on fifty licenses, (namely, seventy-five pounds,) for every month during which the claim is not worked, or during which the yield is such that a royalty of ten per cent. thereon does not amount to that sum.

23. In this case the holder of the claim will be required to enter into a bond, with sufficient sureties to the satisfaction of the Government, for the payment of the royalty as hereinafter prescribed by the regulations with respect to matrix gold.

24. A claim of this nature will be forfeited by the failure to pay the prescribed amount of license fees or royalty, or the fixed charge substituted for royalty, within one month from the acceptance of the application, or by the failure to pay the same in advance for any subsequent month.

25. The sub-letting or the unauthorised transference of the claim, or the employment thereon of unlicensed persons, in cases where payment is made by way of license fee, will also be held to be causes of forfeiture.

26. If it shall happen that, from natural causes, to be judged of by the resident Commissioner, the claim cannot be worked, no license fees or other charge in lieu of royalty will be demanded during the time the same shall remain unworkable.

27. An application for a claim of this nature must be made in writing to the Gold Commissioner having the principal authority in the district in which the same shall be situated, who will submit it, with his report thereon, for the decision of the Government. If there be no valid objection to the application, from interference with existing alluvial claims or other sufficient cause, the right to work the auriferous tract will be conceded to the applicant. No such application will be entertained unless a fee of £25 be paid at the same time to the Commissioner, which will, however, be returned if the application be rejected (s. 10).

28. All such applications will be entered in a book to be kept for that purpose, which will be open at all reasonable times to the inspection of applicants. Every such application will be decided by the Government according to priority. The duration of the claim shall be for a period not exceeding five years.

PRIVATE LANDS.

29. The regulations comprised in the present section are not applicable to private lands, except in so far as they relate to the working of alluvial tracts by machinery; and the charge of Royalty to be made, in that case, on behalf of the Crown will be only one-half the rate charged for the like privileges on Crown lands. Bonds, with sufficient sureties for the due payment of the Royalty, will be required, as in the case of Crown lands.

30. If the proprietor be desirous of working an auriferous tract by means of cradles, or other manual apparatus, a license must be taken out for each person employed in the manner provided by clause 14 of these regulations.

WATERHOLES.

31. Persons desirous of draining ponds or waterholes, for the purpose of obtaining alluvial gold, may make application in writing to the Commissioner having the principal authority in the district, describing accurately the locality. Such applications will be decided by priority, and will be immediately recorded by such officer in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, which will be open at all reasonable times to the inspection of applicants. If there be no valid objection to the application, from interference with alluvial digging, or other sufficient cause, the right to drain the Waterhole will be conceded to the applicant subject to the payment of such number of licenses as shall be proportioned to the area of the Waterhole, calculated at the rate of twenty-five feet square for every license. If the applicant shall employ a greater number of persons than the number of licenses proportioned to the area of the Waterhole, an additional license must be taken out for every person employed in excess of such number.

32. The applicant will be required, within one month after the acceptance of his application, to take out the proper number of licenses, and to renew the same monthly in advance; in failure of which the claim will be considered to have lapsed, and be forfeited accordingly, unless from flood or other sufficient cause, to be judged of by the Resident Commissioner, it shall not be workable, and the applicant during such time will be exempt from the payment of any license fees.

33. A claim for emptying a waterhole will be deemed to extend twelve feet from the bank defining the boundary of such waterhole, together with sufficient space for the erection of machinery and for other necessary purposes, to be determined by the Commissioner.

34. The Resident Commissioner is empowered to make such temporary regulations as may be necessary to prevent inconvenience to other licensed persons from the carrying on operations of the above nature.

RESERVOIRS FOR WASHING GOLD.

35. Persons desirous of constructing reservoirs or dams in the gold fields, for the purpose of washing gold, should make application to the Commissioner having the principal authority in the district, who will, if the same should appear to him unobjectionable, grant the requisite permission.

36. The reservoirs or dams will be reserved for the exclusive use of the applicants, in all cases in which such reservations will not in the opinion of the Commissioner be detrimental to the public interest.

RACES OR TUNNELS.

37. Permission will be granted by the Commissioner having the principal authority in any district, for the cutting or making tunnels or races for the purpose of diverting water courses, or carrying away superfluous water from auriferous lands without payment of any license fee. (s. 11.) But such permission will be granted only on the application of a majority of the licensed miners, holding claims on the portion of the river or main creek where it is desired to cut or make the tunnel or race; and in all such cases the whole of the licensed miners who, in the opinion of the resident Commissioner, may be benefitted by the work, will be required to contribute their share of the labour or expense in the execution of the same, proportioned to the extent of their respective claims.

38. Security must, however, be given, to the satisfaction of the resident Commissioner, for the payment of the royalty of ten per cent. upon any gold that may be procured in the course of the work. Should any of the persons so employed work for gold otherwise than in the course of such employment or incidentally thereto, they will thereby render themselves liable to twice the penalties imposed on persons digging without a license, and also to the forfeiture of their claims and of their mining implements, and any money and property acquired by such unauthorised proceeding. (s. 11.)

EMPLOYERS OF LICENSED LABOURERS.

39. The owners of all claims who may employ men on hire, to assist them in working alluvial gold, and who may take out licenses for them, will be allowed to have the licenses of such men transferred to other labourers, in the event of their quitting their service or ceasing to work for them. The licenses must in every such case be produced to the resident Commissioner, who will endorse thereon, without any additional fee, the name of the transferree.

EMPLOYMENT OF UNLICENSED OR DISQUALIFIED PERSONS.

40. Licensees who may employ on their claims any unlicensed person, or who after due notice shall continue to employ any runaway servant or apprentice, will upon conviction, in addition to the forfeiture of their claims, be liable in respect of each person so employed, to the like penalties as persons found digging without a license. (s. 20.)

FEES PAYABLE BY FOREIGNERS.

41. Persons not being subjects of the British Crown, will be liable to twice the amount of license fees payable by British subjects. If any alien obtain a license otherwise than in accordance with the law, such license will be deemed to be void ab initio, and the claim or holding of such person will be forfeited; and he will be liable to be proceeded against as a person mining and digging for gold without a license. If any person reputed to be an alien shall claim the privileges of a British subject, the proof will lie on him that he is duly entitled to the same. (s. 8.) All subjects of the British Crown by birth or naturalization, and all persons who may have obtained a certificate of denization under the local Act, 11 Victoria, No. 39, are entitled to be considered British subjects within the meaning of these regulations. (s. 34.)

II. MATRIX GOLD.

CROWN LANDS.

42. Persons desirous of working auriferous quartz veins may make application in writing to the Commissioner having the principal authority in the district in which the same is situated, accurately describing the locality; but it is proper here to point out that no person who is not entitled to claim the privilege of a British subject is qualified by law to hold a lease under these regulations.

43. No application will be entertained unless there be paid into the hands of the Commissioner, at the time of lodging the same, a fee of twenty-five pounds, which will however be returned in the event of the application not being granted. (s. 10.) Such application shall be immediately recorded by such officer in a book to be kept for that purpose, which shall be open at all reasonable times to the inspection of applicants.

44. In case no previous application shall have been made in the manner above described, and should there be no valid objection to the proposal, from interference with alluvial digging, or any other sufficient cause, the Commissioner, on the same being approved of by the Government, shall notify to the applicant his acceptance of same. The applicants shall then enter into a bond, binding themselves, should the Government be satisfied with the sufficiency of the parties, jointly and severally, in the sum of one thousand pounds, to pay a royalty of ten per cent. on all gold obtained (except where licenses are paid, as provided for in clause 50 of these regulations) to an officer to be appointed for that purpose by the Government. They shall further be bound to permit such officer to reside on the land in the neighbourhood of the works at such spot as may be assigned by the Resident Commissioner, and also to give to such officer access at all reasonable times to the buildings or premises, and to all books and accounts connected with the production of gold; also to give all necessary facilities for the collection of the royalty daily or weekly as may be found most desirable.

45. If the Government shall not be satisfied with the sufficiency of the applicants, then two or more solvent and responsible parties must be named as sureties. In proposing the name of any person as a surety, a full description should be given of his profession, trade, or calling, and of his residence; and it is to be understood that no person will be accepted as such who is not a person of known respectability and solvency.

46. All buildings, machinery, or other improvements, erected or made on the land, shall be considered as additional security for the due performance of the conditions of the bond.

47. The claim shall consist of half a mile of, and in the course of, the vein, with an average breadth of a quarter of a mile reserved on each side of such vein for buildings and other purposes necessary for carrying on operations, but the claim will be measured according to the cardinal points of the compass, in conformity with the general practice observed in the Survey Department.

48. The right of cutting and using timber for building or for firewood, from adjacent Crown lands, as well as access to neighbouring water, shall also be conceded:—and where the public convenience shall not suffer thereby, the Resident Commissioner will be empowered to grant the exclusive right to necessary water, whether on the half mile square enclosing the vein, or in the immediate neighbourhood.

49. The beds of rivers or main creeks intersected by veins included in such claims are not to be excluded from license to the public generally, except for a distance of fifty yards on each side of such veins. But with this exception no licenses shall be given to the public to dig for alluvial gold on such claims.

50. The holders of the claims, if desirous to work alluvial gold in the ordinary manner by a cradle or other manual apparatus, must take out licenses, on payment of the usual fee of thirty shillings monthly, for such number of persons as they may employ for this purpose. If, however, machinery be used in working the alluvial gold, so as to render practicable the imposition of a Royalty instead of paying license fees, a Royalty will be charged of 10 per cent. on the gold obtained.

51. A claim such as the above shall be forfeited by the failure of the applicant to enter into the required bond, within two months after the notification to him of the acceptance of his application, unless this period be specially extended with the consent of the government; by his neglecting to pay the prescribed royalty, at the time and in the manner required by the bond; by his not regularly employing at least twenty persons, or machinery equivalent, calculated at the rate of one horse power to seven men, on such claim, within six months of the acceptance of his application for the same; by his ceasing to employ that number of persons or equivalent machinery on the works for one month at any time thereafter; by his employing unlicensed persons to work alluvial gold on the claim; by obstructing the officer appointed to collect the royalty in the proper performance of his duty; or in any other way violating the terms of the bond. Such vein shall then be open to selection by other parties.

52. The forfeiture of the claim for non-employment of labour or machinery may, however, be defeated for a further period of six months, on the applicant paying into the hands of the Commissioner a further fee of twenty-five pounds, and this regulation will be held to apply to applications accepted under former regulations now cancelled; but no application can be renewed more than once, and the original applicant will be disqualified from holding a lease of the same claim by transference or otherwise, should it be subsequently granted to any other person.

53. As soon as all the preliminary measures above required shall have been completed, a lease will be issued in favour of the applicant.

54. The duration of the lease shall be twenty-one years. At the expiration of that term, or on the sooner determination of the lease by the consent of the Government, the parties shall have liberty to remove all buildings, machinery, or other improvements erected or made by them, and a reasonable time will be given for that purpose; provided always that the conditions of the bond shall have been duly fulfilled.

55. No portion of land previously occupied under claims for alluvial gold will be open to selection for matrix gold while it continues to be worked for the former.

56. Permission will be accorded to the holders of not more than four conterminous quartz claims on the same vein, so far to combine their operations as to concentrate and employ on any one of those claims the amount of labour, or the machinery equivalent thereto, which is required to be employed on the whole of the claims, provided no injury of a public nature is likely to accrue from the granting of such permission.

PRIVATE LANDS.

57. Persons desirous of working auriferous quartz veins on private lands, shall be subject to the terms of the above regulations, with the exception that the royalty payable on the gross product of gold will be five per cent, and that they shall not be compelled to employ any specified number of persons, nor be liable to any forfeiture on their ceasing to work.

58. It may be proper here to repeat that the owner of any land which has been alienated by the crown who shall suffer any person to mine or dig for gold on the same, without giving previous notice to the nearest Commissioner, is liable to a penalty not exceeding £50. (s. 22.)

III.—TRADERS' LICENSES.

59. Persons occupying portions of a gold field by erecting temporary buildings, tents, &c., and carrying on any business, or following any trade or calling, shall pay a fee of thirty shillings monthly for the use of the land so occupied by them; and they are required to pay the same on demand, and in advance, to the officer appointed to receive payment of license fees.

60. Such license may be cancelled at any time, should the land be required for any public purpose; or in consequence of the conviction of the licensed occupant in any Court of competent jurisdiction, of any felony or misdemeanour, or of the illicit sale of spirits, or of being an idle and disorderly person, or a rogue and vagabond, or incorrigible rogue, or of keeping any gambling or other disorderly house or place (s. 16) For three months thereafter the Commissioner will refuse to grant or renew a license to any person who shall have been so convicted.

61. The Commissioner is empowered to refuse a license to any butcher, or other person, who may be proved, by evidence to his satisfaction, to have allowed dirt or offal, or other offensive matter to accumulate near to his premises, thereby endangering the health of the neighbours; and in no case will any claim to compensation for improvements be recognised.

IV.—LAND HELD UNDER PASTORAL LEASES.

62. Whenever any gold mine or gold field is discovered upon any Crown Land then under lease or license for pastoral purposes, the leases or licenses will be suspended as far only as shall be reported by the Commissioner having the principal authority in the district, to be desirable for securing to the licensed miners the undisturbed prosecution of their employment. On the receipt of such reports the necessary notice will be given to the lessees by the proper officer, of the suspension of their leases or licenses, after the expiration of one month; and such portion of the rent of the lessees of the said lands as may be considered reasonable and just, will be returned or remitted as the case may require. The lessee will also be paid full compensation for the loss, if any, sustained by him by reason of such suspension, to be ascertained by valuers or an umpire appointed in the manner prescribed by section 3 of chapter II. of her Majesty's Order in Council of 9th March, 1847. (s. 3). In acting on this regulation, no greater interference with the interests of the lessees or licensees will be sanctioned than may be absolutely necessary to ensure the object contemplated.

V.—PROSPECTING.

63. The provisions of the Act 16 Victoria No. 43, do not extend to any preliminary search or examination, commonly called "prospecting," for the purpose merely of discovering the presence of gold in any locality. (s. 34.)

VI.—REPEAL OF FORMER REGULATIONS.

64. All former regulations of the government having reference to the management of the gold fields are hereby cancelled.

PROCLAMATION.

THE REV. R. ALLWOOD.—Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the parishioners of St. James', and other friends of the Rev. R. Allwood, was held in the vestry, for the purpose of considering the propriety of presenting him with a testimonial on his approaching departure from the colony. Mr. Justice Dickinson having been called to the chair, expressed the pleasure he felt at seeing so many assembled to pay a mark of respect to their esteemed friend and pastor; he dwelt at considerable length on the reverend gentleman's character in his public ministrations and in private life, and declared his opinion that no one will ever leave the colony whose absence will be more regretted than Mr. Allwood's. On the motion of Dr. Douglass, seconded by Mr. H. H. Browne, a resolution was passed appointing a committee to prepare an address, and receive subscriptions. A committee of twenty-four was then appointed, and the churchwardens (Messrs. Kemp and Martyn) were appointed secretaries and treasurers. £230 was subscribed in the room. The meeting was both numerous and respectable, and but one feeling appeared to exist,—a desire to pay respect to one who had for many years ministered among them.

ANNIVERSARY REGATTA.—A meeting of the Regatta Committee was held yesterday afternoon, at the Custom House Hotel, for the purpose of closing accounts. The chair was occupied by Ralph Mackey, Esq. A number of accounts were submitted and discharged, but it was found that several members of committee had not yet paid in their subscriptions, and instructions were given to the secretary to apply to those gentlemen for the same, as the funds in hand were not adequate to the payment of all the claims. A bill from Mr. Foster, of George-street, for compensation for property alleged to have been detained on board the flag ship, amounting to £38 18s. 3d. was presented, but the committee refused to entertain the claim, it being unanimously resolved that the care of his property properly devolved upon Mr. Foster. Mr. Foster's account for refreshments amounted to the exorbitant sum of £93 15s; but on the motion of Mr. E. W. Bell, seconded by Mr. Green, it was resolved that the sum of £42 10s. being the amount guaranteed to Mr. Foster for 100 guests at 8s. 6d. per head, be tendered to him, together with £3 for supplying lunch to the band of the 11th regiment in Fort Macquarie, with a proviso that if Mr. Foster could satisfy the committee that more than 100 persons sat down to lunch, each additional guest should be paid for at the same rate. The number of tickets delivered at the gangway were certified by Mr. G. S. Lyons to be only 89; but it appeared that in the evening of the regatta day the captain of the Jessie Byrne entertained some friends on board, for which Mr. Foster sought to charge the committee,—a claim which the committee very properly repudiated. There was also an account for illuminations, &c., amounting to £17 10s., in respect of which the secretary was instructed to refer the claimant to Captain Baker for payment. It is believed that the funds will only be deficient to a small amount, when the subscriptions of all members of committee shall have been paid in. The further consideration of the financial business having been deferred until Monday next, Mr. E. W. Bell brought under the notice of the meeting the propriety of adopting a memorial to the Governor-General, praying that his Excellency will be pleased to place upon the estimates for 1854 the sum of £200 to be run for by first-class yachts. Mr. Bell urged that hitherto the aquatic sports at the anniversary regatta had been supported only by the voluntary contributions of a small portion of the community, and that it would be highly becoming the Government and people of New South Wales to give a more permanent and national character to that festival, and be an inducement to the building of first-class vessels, thus fostering that love of maritime pursuits which had been for so many ages the glory and safeguard of the mother country, and of the kindred nations of the American continent, and which was essential to the future greatness of the Australasian colonies. Mr. Bell then moved, and Mr. Bogue seconded, the adoption of a draft memorial embodying these views, and it was agreed that the memorial should be submitted to the approbation of a meeting of members of committee and other gentlemen interested in aquatic sports, to be held on Monday next, at four o'clock, at the Custom-house Hotel, which the Secretary was instructed to advertise.

RECEIPT OF GOLD BY THE NORTHERN ESCORT.—The following is the list of consignees of gold delivered at the Colonial Treasury on Tuesday, by the Northern Escort: —Henry Cohen, 420 ozs. 16 dwts.; David Cohen, 244 ozs. 12 dwts.; Ebsworth and Co., 200 ozs. 4 dwts. 21 grs.; A. Munro, 75 ozs.; J. G. Cohen, 11 ozs. 12 dwts. 12 grs. Total, 952 ozs. 5 dwts. 9 grs.

ESCAPE.—A man named Patrick Crossdill on the 25th ultimo made his escape from Constable Ashburn, of the Muswellbrook police, who had him in charge for escort to gaol. Crossdill had been convicted of a breach of the Vagrant Act, and received sentence of three months' imprisonment. A reward of £5 has been offered by the constable for his recapture.

HOUSE ROBBERY.—Either late on Tuesday night or early yesterday morning, the kitchen of Mr. Boyce, residing in Botany-street, was feloniously entered by some person or persons as yet unknown, and robbed of sundry articles belonging to that department, but of no great money value. The thief must have had considerable trouble in obtaining the trifling booty, having to scale a fence in order to get at the kitchen.

Mr. Joseph Cohen calls the attention of the trade, and others, to his sale of carpeting, Paris hats, &c., at 11 o'clock, this day.

WATER POLICE OFFICE.—Yesterday, in the matter of six seamen belonging to the ship Sarah Metcalf, who on Monday were brought before the Water Police Bench charged with combining with others of the crew and with each other to disobey lawful commands, Mr. Brenan ordered that they should all be sent on board their ship again. The information in this case was exhibited under the Mercantile Marine Act, 1851—a precis of which was published in this journal so soon as a copy was received in this colony. At the request of the Water Police Magistrate, the 18th section of this Act, which render it imperative to read from the official log book every entry of an offence (except in the case of desertion, or where it is impossible to do so) to the offending seaman; and further, to annex a statement that the charge has been so read; was subsequently republished in these columns, because this very plain enactment continues to be overlooked. In the case of the Sarah Metcalf, Captain Yorston read over to the six men before the court the entry made in the official log book, but he had neglected to annex the statement that he had done so, and Mr. Nichols urging his objection, it was decided to be fatal to the information. Mr. Robert Johnson thereupon suggested that the Captain should at once (under the provisions of the Mercantile Marine Act) order the six men to return to their duty. This they refused to do; and this refusal being made a formal charge on Tuesday, and no defence being offered by them, they were remanded until yesterday, and then ordered to be conveyed by force on board.—Wentworth Richmond, a seaman belonging to the Chance, pleaded guilty to the charge of refusing to do duty, and was sentenced to be imprisoned for 21 days.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—Robert Mitchell and Joseph Rogers, charged with having on the night of the 25th ultimo assaulted one James Brown, in Gloucester-street, and robbed him of £43, were yesterday brought before the Police Court for further inquiry, pursuant to remand from Saturday. Mr. Brown further deposed that on Friday last he met the prisoner Mitchell by appointment; another man was with Rogers at the time; the other man offered him a £50 note to settle the matter, offering to deposit it with some one until Mitchell should be discharged; he declined to take it; Rogers said "you may as well take the money." On cross-examination by Mr. Nichols, Brown said he did not meet Rogers by appointment, but he had made an appointment with Mitchell's wife to meet at the place for the purpose of getting back his money, but instead of her found Rogers and the other man. Mr. Dowling inquired of Mr. Nichols whether he had anything to say on behalf of his client in answer to the charge. Mr. Nichols said that as against Mitchell there was evidence on which his worship would be bound to send the case to a jury, he therefore should reserve his defence. In regard, however, to Rogers, there was no evidence whatever to connect him with the highway robbery, and he was entitled to be discharged. Mr. Dowling intimated his intention of committing both prisoners. Mr. Nichols inquired on what charge; as the evidence stood, and unexplained, there might be a suspicion that he endeavoured to compound a felony, which was not now under inquiry; but as touching the highway robbery there was no evidence whatever against him. He had not been identified as one of the three men by whom it was committed—the utmost that had been said of him being that he "resembled one of them." His worship said that he had made up his mind to commit them both for the highway robbery. Application was made for bail, which was refused.

THE RAIL ON THE STREETS OF NEW YORK.—Owing to the great increase of business in the lower part of the city, railways are to be introduced into all the long parallel streets. This will remedy the evil in a great degree. The change in three or four streets where the experiment has been made is immense. Instead of the noisy rumbling, and disagreeable omnibus, we have the car gliding along, drawn by horses, making scarcely any noise, and exciting scarcely any dust. The change is gratifying to the drivers of the private carriages, for they know where to find these cars; whereas the zig-zag movements of the omnibuses have ever been perplexing.—Christian Times.

FOR SALE, by private contract, on reasonable terms, in one or more lots, 1835 acres of land at Hunter's River, situate at the head of Fullerton Bay, with a water frontage of two miles, and distant by water from Newcastle seven miles.

About seventy acres have been cleared and cultivated, and a large portion of the property is fenced in.

The daily communication with Sydney, as well as its proximity to Newcastle, where the shipping have lately created an extensive and insufficiently supplied demand for all descriptions of farm and dairy produce, and the now increasing population, render this property a most eligible investment for capitalists and small farmers.

A considerable portion of it is cabbage-tree land, known to be the richest in the colony. It is well watered in all seasons, is suited for every description of agriculture, including cotton, and is a good dairy farm.

The title is unexceptionable.

The Land is admirably adapted for wheat, as the superior sample now reaping will show.

The Station has frontage to the Macquarie, and also to the Cudgelong (or Mudgee) Rivers, and is situate about twelve miles by a bridle track, and eighteen miles by a good and level dray road, from the township of Wellington, about thirty miles from SOFALA, twenty from MEROO, LOUISA CREEK, and DIRTHOLE DIGGINGS, and 10 miles from the junction of the Turon and Macquarie.

The dry diggings of the "Burrandong" and "DEVIL'S HOLE" are in the very centre of this valuable property—valuable not only for its splendid pastoral and agricultural qualities, which in themselves cause it to be held in high estimation, but valuable for the advantages that may be obtained by the establishment of a good store wherewith to supply the numerous diggers on the various rivers and creeks, which the late proprietor, without especially laying himself out for it, turned greatly to his benefit, and within the last NINE MONTHS CLEARED UPWARDS OF £2000 by the sale of MEAT, FLOUR, SLOPS, and other necessaries to the digging population, and no doubt an active man of business would in a very short time realise a
